Council Offers Girl Scouts Gym At Sunset

A possible solution to the three-way litigation over ownership of the former site of the Carmel Girl Scout House at the corner of Lincoln and Sixth was proposed to the city council last night in a report prepared by Councilmen William Sefton and Herbert Blanks. The council adopted the report with Councilman Norberg voting "No." Further resolution of the matter rests with the litigants, the Carmel Girl Scout Chapter, the Monterey Bay Area Girl Scout Council and trustees of the Harrison Memorial Library.

As proposed, for 40 years, the city will lease the former gymnasium, shower room and nurse's office at Sunset Center to the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council for the use of the Carmel Girl Scout Chapter, with the proviso that the council may use the facility not more than ten percent of the time.

Secondly, the Harrison Memorial Library will pay the city $15,000 which will be placed in a special account allocated to remodeling and maintaining the Sunset Center premises for Girl Scout use.

Thirdly, the one lot site of the former Girl Scout House, which was destroyed by fire in May, 1963, (Continued on Page Sixteen)

La Fiesta de San Carlos de Borromeo

Carmel Mission Basilica again will celebrate La Fiesta de San Carlos de Borromeo on Sunday from noon until 5 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend the colorful and traditional event.

The fiesta honoring the patron saint of the Basilica dates back to the founding of the Mission in the days of Father Junipero Serra.

After a lapse of 27 years, the fiesta was successfully revived in 1964 and held again last Fall.

The 1966 fiesta committee has planned a new and varied program of entertainment and other innovations that promise to make this year's fiesta a fun-filled event for the entire family.

The celebration on Sunday will begin at 11 a.m. when a High Mass will be offered in the Basilica by (Continued on Page Thirteen)

OFFICER EDDIE AND BIKE

NEW FIRE ENGINE

New City Machines

The fire department, street department and department of public works all have new machines this week. Police Chief Clyde Klaumann has Officer Eddie Fischer watching overtime parkers on a new three-wheel Harley-Davidson motorbike, cost $2,325. Eddie's ancient bike had deteriorated to the point that even he, a wizard with motorcycles, couldn't repair it profitably. Superintendent of Public Works Bill Askew and his boys had reached the same point with the city's old street grader. Now they have a new Caterpillar grader, cost $27,040 with $10,000 of this amount to be paid this year. Fire Chief Raleigh Belvall and members of the fire department have a American LaFrance fire engine, cost $37,635 with yearly payments to be $7,700. This piece of equipment replaces an engine which qualified for the "antique car" class. (grader on page 16).

CANNY COUNSEL by Sagacious Sal

Dear Sal,
Whenever I mention retirement, my wife becomes emotionally upset. Yet I believe everybody should plan for retirement. How can I convince her we will both grow old and should plan for it?

Practical

Dear Practical,

The entire problem of retirement, with our growing number of senior citizens, needs a fresh re-examination. Without investments during one's productive years, the retired couple is left, at the age of 65, with a substandard income, and very few methods of increasing this income. At 65, 70, 80 — many people are bright, alert, brilliant, and healthy. It has been found in psychological research that people at the age of 70 still have the same capacity to learn as does the college student of 20. We need a different outlook on retirement. People should not be "put on the shelf" because of mere age. Part-time work, positions with an advisory capacity, and more creative skills should be opened up for them.

Your tendency toward a wholesome economy and a logical mind shows in your writing. Your wife, too, has these characteristics. However, this is not the time to discuss retirement with her. Her writing shows her close to physical exhaustion. She worries, and is overly sensitive. She needs a good "carefree" vacation instead. But this shouldn't stop you from looking into potential investments for your future.

SENATOR FARR GUEST SPEAKER

Writers Who Have Lived in Carmel

BY HERBERT HERON

Adriana Spadoni

The Spadoni family — father, mother, and two daughters, Faustina and Adriana — were early settlers in Carmel. In 1908 they came down from San Francisco and built the family home on Palou Street on the north side of the village. This was where the two girls lived for many many years, except for time in San Francisco and New York. Adriana began writing here, and later went east where she worked as a free lance writer till 1915, then returned to Carmel. She married John Kenneth Turner in 1937. Faustina married Redfern Mason. Their husbands were well known Carmel writers. Turner died in 1948, and Adriana moved to Mill Valley to live with her now widowed sister.

Adriana was the author of many short stories and a number of novels, including The Swing of the Pendulum, 1919; Mrs. Phelps's Husband, 1924; Not All Rivers, 1937; The Noise of the World, 1943.

Among the many friends of the Spadoni family in the early days was Harry Lafier, sometime poet but mostly real estate operator. He was a big strong fellow who owned some property way down the coast, where he built a house and a fancy pool with his own hands out of native material. He thought nothing of walking up the miles to Carmel, spending the night here (often with the Spadonis) and taking the early train to San Francisco. George Sterling's famous Abalone Song originally contained this stanza:

Now Lafier's ghost came up the coast

And said to Miss Spadoni:
"I'd not have starved had I but carved
The wholesome abalone."

Sterling omitted this verse in his final version, as it was the only one with a personal note, all others being concerned with the luscious mollusk in general.

Inside Of Mission Being Replastered

Parishioners and visitors to Carmel Mission Basilica are startled to see huge scaffolding and strange paraphernalia.

The entire church interior is being replastered, one section at a time. The old plaster on the side walls, loose and badly deteriorated, must be removed before new plaster is applied. The old plaster was put on in 1890. The bare wooden church ceiling will also be plastered to improve appearance and acoustics.

All work is under the supervision of Harry Downie, Mission curator, who has been in charge of restoration. When plastering is finished, the Basilica will be repainted as before to retain its antique appearance.

tion in the area of business and financial management, makes his home in Hatton Fields Mesa with his wife, Agnes. Dr. Hungate is a 46-year Mason. Philip L. Reiser, a 20-year Mason, and his wife, Helen, are Carmel residents. Mr. Reiser is a salesman for Principal Motors in Monterey.

THE STUDIO

We have now been at it for three exciting months. Our endeavor has been to preserve all the features that have gained The Studio favor over the past nine years, yet to innovate cautiously as we saw an opportunity to improve. Even if we can't please all the people all the time—and constructive criticism is always welcome—we hope we have been right more often than wrong. We do know for sure that "Never Too Late" is no mistake. Edie and Sam Keras, abetted by Sally Richmond, Sydna Flynn, Roger Parks, Ed Shinbrot, Webber Buckham and Marty Merrick, convulse our audiences every Friday, Saturday and Sunday night. CCAIA Convention Opened Here Today

"Space for People" is the theme of the 21st annual convention of the California Council, American Institute of Architects, which opened at the Monterey County Fairgrounds this morning and will continue until Sunday.

The Monterey Bay chapter of the AIA, Ted Minnis, president, is welcoming the architects to the Peninsula. Thomas Elston is coordinator for the local chapter and has arranged sports events including an El Toro regatta and a golf tournament. Mrs. Walter Burde, president of the local council of the Women's Architectural League, is responsible for events scheduled for architects' wives. Included in these will be a luncheon on Saturday at the Buddhist Temple in Seaside followed by exhibitions of classic and modern Japanese dancing.

Tonight local AIA members will be hosts at a reception for visiting architects and their wives at the Carmel Art Association gallery. In the receiving line during the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Minnis, Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Bordonaro, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McIntyre and Mr. and Mrs. Elston.

This evening at 6 p.m., architectural students attending the convention will be welcomed at a gathering in the President's House at the Mark Thomas Inn. Special programs for students will be presented daily.

The convention's fine arts exhibition in the agriculture building will be open to the public on Saturday.

The CCAIA meetings are planned to explore some of the inner and less heard of needs of people, such as spiritual and psychological, and how today's architectural design meets or ignores these needs. Emphasized will be the need for space.

Convention events will end with the President's Banquet and Ball at the fairgrounds on Saturday evening.

Featured CCAIA convention speakers will be Dr. Edward T. Hall professor of anthropology at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago who is in his sixth year of a continuing international research program on man's perception and use of space; John B. Parkin, FRAIC of the Canadian architectural firm which bears his name and is noted for school design; Art Seidenbaum, Los Angeles Times columnist on California culture; Minoru Yamasaki, FAIA, one of the most distinguished architects in the United States with international recognition; and George E. Kassabaum, national AIA vice president.

★ KIWANIS LEARNS OF ESTATE PLANNING

Arthur Carruthers of Los Angeles, senior vice president of United California Bank, told Kiwanis Club members last week that there are many common errors in planning an estate. "Any one error," he warned, "could destroy the purpose of a good will!"

A graduate of Yale and Northwestern universities, Mr. Carruthers did postgraduate work at Columbia University. He served also as a member of the faculty of the graduate school of banking at the University of Wisconsin, is a past president of the Life Insurance and Trust Council of Los Angeles, vice president of the Braille Institute and past president of the Trust Division of the California Bankers Association.

Mr. Carruthers took time from a busy schedule to discuss many important items in estate planning, emphasizing that it is most essential to secure the services of a good attorney as well as a capable, experienced trust officer at a banking institution.

Today Carmel Kiwanis will elect officers for the coming year.

BUSY DAYS AT TOR HOUSE

One of the results of being the son of a famous American is that one's home is scarcely his castle, what with streams of admirers or the merely curious seeking information. In addition, it is almost a full time job for Donnan Jeffers and his wife, Lee, to keep up with all the correspondence concerning the late Robinson Jeffers. During the past few months, two television firms have filmed documentaries about the leading poet, their crews overrunning Tor House, Hawk Tower and the additions to the Jeffers home which Donnan built for his family. Donnan narrated a part of the documentary filmed for Westinghouse, which will be released over KPDX. Actress Judith Anderson narrated another part.

Among Jeffers' work in which Miss Anderson has starred is "Tower Beyond Tragedy," which was first produced at the Forest Theater. While visiting the Jeffers recently, Miss Anderson said that the Forest Theater production had never been surpassed elsewhere.

As the Jeffers family prepares to leave for Ireland, a new biography of the poet is making its appearance. Written by Melba Bennett, a dedicated student of Mr. Jeffers' poetry as well as a personal friend, the book is entitled "The Stone Mason of Tor House—The Life and Times of Robinson Jeffers."

Donnan and Lee, with their two youngest children, Robinson and Donnan Jr., will return to make their home in Kilmacthomas, Ireland, for the next four years. Their daughter, Una, is already at her boarding school in Ireland and their oldest son, Lindsay, has entered the American College in Paris.

A Brother For Christopher

Christopher Masten, who was a year old in May, is enchanted to welcome a brother, Walter Lewis, who became a part of the family of Warren and Vivian Masten on September 24. No less pleased are his grandmothers, Mrs. Hildreth Hare and Mrs. Verna Davis, both of Carmel. Among numerous relatives, the new baby is the nephew of Ric Masten of Palo Colorado, Mrs. George Economakis (Gay Masten) of Athens, Donn and Lee Hare of Carmel. He is the grandson also of the late Richard Masten of Carmel.

While his mother was in the hospital, grandmother Hildreth Hare entertained Christopher at her home, at the same time preparing to leave on a freighter trip circumnavigating Africa, with stops at interesting places. Mrs. Hare plans to spend some time in Portugal before returning to New York, thence home to Carmel. On this trip, she will bypass visits to Athens to visit the Economakis family, and to Cairo to see her niece, Mrs. David (Elizabeth Houghton) Nes, whose husband is with the American Embassy there.

The Geisens Are Home

Weary travelers Jack and Micheline Geisen returned late Tuesday night, chauvinistically catching Carmel colds—both glad to be home and a little sad that their summer in France is over. Of all the improbable things that happened, Micheline reports that the greatest surprise greeted them on their arrival in New York. The New York Times had picked up a French article on surfing in Biarritz which featured her son, Dan Robinson, who was with the Geisens there until he flew home to reenter Robert Louis Stevenson this term.

ART SHOW WINNERS

Virginia Conroy (Mrs. Eldon Dedini), Ronald Bostwick and Victor di Gesu each won a $300 award in the Monterey County Painting — 1966 competitive show which opened today at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association gallery. A total of 26 works were selected for exhibition.

October Tree Tour

Trees, a hedge, a dangerous roadside bank and a driveway were considered Tuesday afternoon on the city council's October tree tour meeting.

Mrs. Emil Kraft's request to remove seven towering eucalyptus trees on the south side of Fourth Avenue was denied. Mrs. Ken Brown was not allowed to replace a plum tree with a deodar at the corner of Sixth and Torres. No action was taken on the request of Charles Fuller to trim or remove a "dead" oak on Torres below Eighth. Oak moths had defoliated this tree and it will survive, City Forester Hugh Smith told the council.

Mrs. Walter Lehmann received permission to remove part of an acacia hedge, trim another part, bordering a building site at the corner of Lincoln and Santa Lucia. Donald Drummond was granted a driveway variance because of the steep pitch of a dwelling site at Mission and Second.

The council spent considerable time surveying the steep bank on Torres behind Surf 'n' Sand drug store. Keith Evans, owner of the property in question, received permission to level this dangerous bank and install a sidewalk. Trees removed must be replaced by Evans. The city will carry part of the cost of street work with the major part of the cost of the entire project to be assumed by the property owner.

Patty Heron To Marry

A late Fall wedding is planned by Patricia Ann Heron and William Bernard Scollan III of Sacramento. The couple's betrothal was recently announced by Patricia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Heron of Sacramento.

Patricia's father, who will be remembered by long time Carmelites as "Bill" or "Smoke," grew up in Carmel. She is the granddaughter of Herbert Heron, Shakespearean scholar, founder of the Forest Theater and a former Mayor of Carmel, and the late Opal Heron Search.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Sacramento City College, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma honor society, and of San Francisco State College. She is now an elementary teacher in the Sacramento schools.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bernard Scollan Jr. of Sacramento, is also a graduate of Sacramento City College. He attended the University of Oregon and was graduated from the University of California, Berkeley. Mr. Scollan is doing graduate work at Sacramento State College.

Following their wedding, the couple will make their home in Sacramento.

Carmel Memories

Memories of childhood in Carmel flooded into the mind of Thor Svenson when he visited the Pine Cone this week as public information officer of the CCAIA convention, a task he undertakes each year. He remembered working backstage at the Forest Theater and the days when Aimee Semple McPherson disappeared to reappear here. He is a writer for architectural magazines now, lives in Southern California and twice has won the Phelan award for literature.

Mrs. Kibler Visiting

Mrs. Betty Kibler is in Carmel this week visiting her brother, Everett C. Banfield. Now a resident of Sea Ranch, a coastal development about 160 miles north of San Francisco, Mrs. Kibler reports the area is similar to Pebble Beach except that most of the houses are vacation-type and there are no golf courses. There are, however, tennis courts, a swimming pool, wonderful horseback riding trails and excellent hunting. In fact, according to Mrs. Kibler, many of the residents there depend largely on wild game for meat. The weather is about like ours, with a bit more wind. The former Carmelite manages the restaurant and grocery store at Sea Ranch.

Mrs. Kibler says that her son, now in the Navy Quartermaster Corps, is stationed aboard a tug used to tow scows in, and sometimes across, the Pacific. Her daughter, Elizabeth, is living in Seattle, where she is a social worker for the State of Washington.

Monica Is The First

Monica Diane is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baltz for their first child, who was born at Community Hospital September 15.

So enchanted by her granddaughter, also by Carmel, is Mrs. C. W. Goforth, that she may never go back to Aiken, South Carolina, after visiting here to help out with Monica. Mrs. Bernice Baltz of Laguna Beach awaits her first view of her recently born granddaughter.

Elise Is New Carmelite

Elise is the name of the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Layton of Carmel. The new Carmelite was born at Community Hospital on September 28.

Lake County Jaunt

Cliff and Mary Cook packed up their golf bags again recently to join the August Nietos for a week at Hoberg's on the Clear Lake.

An earlier summer trip took the Cooks to Mount Lassen National Park, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Matteson. Mr. Matteson, a science teacher at Chico High School, spends his vacations as a ranger-naturalist at the park while his wife, an art teacher at Chico College, enjoys the leisure to paint. The Mattesons' son, Donald, an associate professor of chemistry at the University of Washington, is married to the former Sunny Cook.

Stationed At Ft. Ord

Greg Scheid, a graduate of Carmel High and Monterey Peninsula College, is serving with the Army Reserve at Ft. Ord. Being stationed at Ord, Greg is fortunate to be able to spend weekends at home (or part of them) with his mother, Mrs. Harry Scheid of Pebble Beach.

Constant Traveler Returned

Undine Bliss, who spent many a vacation here as a child and young woman, is home from the latest of her travels—this time a summer in New England after a cross-country tour. Miss Bliss retired a few years ago after a long career with the Stockton schools as a teacher of physical education and now makes her home here.

After retirement, she spent two and a half years in other parts of the world and has brought back to her friends her keen observations of all she saw and the people she met. Europe, Mexico, Central America, the Orient and the vast Pacific with its distant islands are among the places she has visited in past years.

At Stanford In Austria

Thomas J. McDonnell, a sophomore at Stanford University, is among students enrolled at the university's Austrian campus at Semmering for six months. Tom, who spent the summer traveling and working in Europe, is a graduate of Robert Louis Stevenson School. His brother, James McDonnell Jr., is in his senior year at Lewis and Clark.

Their parents, Judge and Mrs. James M. McDonnell, are now full time Carmel residents. Prior to his retirement after 26 years on the bench, Judge McDonnell has been commuting for the past four years between Carmel and their former home in Sacramento.

Newlyweds In Sacramento

Making their home in Sacramento are Lieutenant James Roy Annis and his bride, the former Ann Littlefield, whose marriage took place at All Saints' Episcopal Church on September 17. The afternoon ceremony was performed by the Reverend Lloyd Johnston.

Ann is the daughter of Lieutenant Colonel Robert M. Littlefield (USAF ret) and Mrs. Littlefield of Carmel, both of whom attended Carmel schools. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Lane Lancaster of Carmel, the late Charles Littlefield and the late Mrs. Ann Uzzell. She attended Marion College at Marion, Virginia.

A 1962 graduate of the Air Force Academy, Lieutenant Annis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Annis of Beaver Dam, Kentucky. He is stationed at Mather Field AFB until completion of navigation and electronic warfare school in May.

The bride's maid of honor was Paula Joyce Emerick, the bridesmaids Jennifer Emerick and Kim Supercrop, all of Sacramento.

Danny Annis of Beaver Dam was his brother's best man and the ushers were Lieutenant Jerry Stoffel of Mather Field and Robert M. Littlefield Jr. of Carmel, the bride's brother.

In International Operation

Captain Robert W. Hayler Jr., son of Vice Admiral and Mrs. R. W. Hayler of Carmel, is participating in the international operation "Unitas VII" while serving on the staff of Commander South Atlantic Fleet aboard the USS Leahy. For a number of years, seven South American navies have combined with a U. S. Navy Task Force to conduct these anti-submarine warfare maneuvers. After exercises in the Caribbean, the U. S. force will circumnavigate South America.

Mrs. Hayler, the former Barbara Silliman of Pebble Beach, and the couple's two children, Robert W. III and Nicole, reside at the U. S. Naval base in Trinidad.

Admiral and Mrs. Hayler's other son, Captain William B. Hayler (USN) was here in July with his wife and daughters, Margaret and Claire. The family is presently living in Newport, Rhode Island.

At Directors Meeting

In his capacity as chairman of the board of directors of National Airlines, Dudley Swim attended the firm's quarterly meeting at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco in September. The meeting was followed by a luncheon at the Bohemian Club for approximately 150 prominent civic, financial and military leaders in the San Francisco Bay Area. Other business matters took Mr. Swim to New York last week.

Harvard Research Fellow

Dr. James R. Tillotson of Carmel has been appointed research fellow in medicine at the Harvard Medical School and its associated teaching hospitals.

Dr. Tillotson received his B.A. degree from Lehigh University in 1955 and his M.D. degree in 1959 from the University of California Medical School.

He is affiliated with Boston City Hospital.

Delayed Promotion

Orders promoting Major Dana S. Slack, MSC, to Lieutenant Colonel were effective on August 31 while he was on duty in the Far East but the silver leaves were not pinned to his shoulders until he returned to the Army Surgeon General's office after Labor Day. With the Directorate of Plans, Supply and Operations since 1965, Colonel Slack is now Chief of the Military Assistance Section in the Military Management branch.

Following service in the Philippines during World War II, he took his B. A. degree in zoology at the University of California, later returned to active service and received a battlefield commission to second lieutenant while on duty with the Medical Service Corps in Korea. He has since earned a masters' degree in business administration at UC and held troop assignments as well as administrative posts in the U. S., Germany and Korea.

Colonel Slack's wife, Camilla, is the daughter of Mrs. B. H. Thomas of Carmel. The couple and their three children make their home in Manassas, Virginia.

No Strike, No Visit

Postponement of a threatened strike against Pan American airlines was good news for travelers, bad news for stewardess Julie Campbell, who had planned to visit Carmel with her roommate, Renate Muller of Sweden. Julie is based in New York City and has been on Pan Am's South American flights since completion of training.

Judge and Mrs. Gordon Campbell have had few chances to see Julie during the past year and, with her numerous Carmel friends, are disappointed with the turn of events.

Captain Hilgers Due Home

Captain John Hilgers, serving with the Third Marine Division in Viet Nam, is expected back in the U. S. at the end of October to rejoin his wife, Barbara, and their two year old son, John Mark Jr., in Huntington Beach. Captain Hilgers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph J. Hilgers of Carmel, are also looking forward to his return. The Marine officer graduated from Sunset and Carmel High schools, Monterey Peninsula College and San Jose State, later doing graduate work at the University of California.

Weather Ordered

It might be the perfect Indian Summer that Mrs. Ethel Fuller ordered—or perhaps the cool, pine-scented fog—that pleased her guests. Whatever, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lance McDermoth, enjoyed the best of our seasons again, here from their Pomona home to see Mrs. Fuller and friends made during their many visits to Carmel.

Son In Special Training

U. S. Air Force Captain Thomas A. Johnson, son of Mrs. George Gree of Carmel Valley, has entered the Air University's Squadron Officer School at Maxwell AFB in Alabama for 14 weeks of instruction. The senior USAF professional school provides training in communicative skills, leadership, national power and international relations, command-staff team and aerospace matters. The captain was previously an instructor pilot at Hurlburt Field, Florida.

Denver University Grant

Mrs. Winifred Wedge, the former Sarah McCloud of Carmel, has been awarded a two-year grant by the University of Denver, where she is studying toward a master's degree in social work. According to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCloud, Sarah had not sought the grant and was therefore surprised as well as pleased to receive it. A graduate of Carmel High, she attended Stanford University and now lives in Denver, where her husband has his headquarters as sales representative for a construction firm.

PINPOINT PROFILE

Mary Ellen Hillyard

Mary Ellen (Nellie) Hillyard had to think back a long way while reminiscing about the Good Old Days. She is 96 years of age. It really takes some doing to reach back that far and remember "what was going on" then.

Born in Peoria, Illinois, she graduated from Illinois State University as a home economist major. Her family moved to Denver, Colorado, shortly after. Since Nellie loved to travel and as luck would have it her two brothers were officials of a railroad at the time, it was no trick at all to get passes anywhere in the U. S. After graduation she and her girl friend from college took advantage of this rare opportunity — and travel they did.

East coast, West coast, Hawaii, Alaska, they really took in the sights! It was in Denver that Nellie met her husband. They had a beautiful church wedding which Nellie's mother insisted upon. When Nellie's son was only four years old Mr. Hillyard died suddenly. Tragedy struck again during World War II when her son was killed, and she was left alone.

When talking about her activities as a child, Nellie told about her six brothers and sisters. Theirs was a happy childhood. To begin with they had a spacious yard. They arranged their own communal activities for the most part. Their parents provided them with all sorts of slides, swings and even ponies to ride and the care and feeding of the ponies was their responsibility.

Christmas time meant bringing home a tree from the forest and decorating it—each child adding his or her own decoration.

Another interesting item in Nellie's story is the fact that, during the checking of the family's lineage, her sister discovered that their grandmother was the daughter of an Irish lord. The name was Lord Lintz. Then they spelled the name Lintz; now the American spelling has been changed to Lynch.

Nellie Hillyard is now living quietly at the Lo-Mar Rest Home in Pacific Grove. As we were taking our departure we asked her what she would recommend for a long life.

She was quiet a minute and then said "Eat the right combination of foods and be friendly." We need not add anything more!

Carmel To Bill School District For Sunset Use

The Carmel Unified School District should reimburse the city for usages of Sunset Center in excess of the number agreed upon in the purchase of the former school property by the city, Sunset Commissioners agreed last week. They also met two men who have applied to be paid assistants to the commission in a feasibility study of use and development of the municipal cultural and community center. Considered, too, was revision of auditorium rental fees.

Commissioner Captain Frank Falge announced that the report on the acoustics study of Sunset Center auditorium undertaken by the California Arts Commission had been received.

During the past year, the Monterey County Symphony, which operates as a Carmel Adult School class, used Sunset Center a total of 40 times, or 19 times in excess of the 21 usages approved in the sale agreement.

Commissioner Ted Fehring long has maintained that some portion of the community services tax collected by the school district (eight and one-half cents this year) should be allocated to the city for community services usage of Sunset Center. Last week he stated that the 19 excess usages under discussion were for adult school purposes. "The City of Carmel deserves to be paid for these services," he said.

"How are we going to get the money?" queried Commissioner James B. Pruitt. Commissioner Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher advocated billing the school district. This the commission voted to do unanimously. Mr. Fehring then proposed that the district should pay for community recreational use of the Sunset School playground. He advised a complete study of playground use be made, then reasonable remuneration to the city be sought from the school district.

Hugh Bayless, commission secretary, also city clerk and administrator, suggested revision of the flat fees now charged for use of Sunset Center auditorium to a fixed basic fee of $50 plus an hourly rate fee for stage manager and ten percent of the gross receipts of any performance for which admission is charged.

The city would make a lot more money by this system when there is a user with "a full house and high price tickets," he predicted. A user with a small audience, similarly, would not be "stuck with a cost greater than the take."

Both men who have applied to assist the commission with a feasibility study, John Hicks of Carmel and Robert Daniel Heater of Pacific Grove, stated that the proposed percentage fees were accepted practice elsewhere.

The fee change was referred to the commission's committee on administration, headed by Commissioner Dr. James Gilman, for study and report. The applications of Hicks and Heater were referred to the commission's committee on planning composed of Mrs. Jean van Loben Sels, chairman, and Pruitt and Fehring. (The sum of $2,000 was allocated by the city council in the 1966-67 budget for feasibility studies.)

No consideration of the report on Sunset Center auditorium acoustics was undertaken as commissioners had had no opportunity to study it. Copies will be reviewed by commissioners individually and the report discussed at their October 24 meeting. Captain Falge stated that, following consultation with Dr. Christian Wolf of Carmel, an acoustics expert, an experiment will be conducted with the county symphony in an effort to improve onstage acoustics.

Ramona Weer Is Crocker-Citizens Valley Manager

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held Thursday afternoon of last week on the site of a new $150,000 building for Crocker-Citizens National Bank to be erected immediately in the Carmel Valley Shopping Center. The keynote address was delivered by Emmett G. Solomon, Crocker-Citizens president, who extended a welcome to an audience of some 70 persons and voiced his company's appreciation of the opportunity to serve the people of the Carmel Valley from this new location, which will become the sixth Crocker-Citizens bank on the Monterey Peninsula.

Mr. Solomon also announced the appointment of Mrs. Ramona Weer, now assistant-manager of the Carmel office, as manager of the Carmel Valley Crocker-Citizens branch.

George Clemens, speaking on behalf of the developers, replied to President Solomon's remarks by extending a warm welcome to Crocker-Citizens Bank as one of the key tenants of the shopping center. He added that the name Crocker-Citizens would contribute much to the permanence and stability of the new Carmel Valley Shopping Center.

Laguna Seca Prize Money Highest Yet

The Monterey Grand Prix at Laguna Seca the weekend of October 14-16, will see the greatest assemblage of sports cars and drivers in the history of the world-famous Monterey road course compete for $53,000 in prize money.

The Monterey Grand Prix, this year one of the six events of the new Canadian-American Challenge Cup series, is sponsored for charity by the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP).

With total prize money for the six series at about $355,000, this is the richest series ever run for sports-racing cars. The Johnson Wax Company has posted a $55,000 series purse to be split among the ten drivers with the most points at the end of the series. Of this amount, $19,250 will go to the driver with the most points.

LUCKY JIM!

James Cardwell of Carmel held the lucky Boosters Club ticket entitling him to a week in Hawaii for two; the Red Lion won the marine painting by Clarence Bates; and Carmel High won the football game against San Lorenzo Saturday. Mrs. Harris Taylor, wife of the superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, fished out the lucky numbers at half-time during the varsity contest at Bardarson Field.

Congratulations are in order to the Boosters Club and to local citizens, who, through their purchase of tickets and donations of trading stamps, made it possible for the organization to raise approximately $3,000 for the high school athletic fund.

REPORTS FROM R.L.S

Scholarship Program

An extensive scholarship program is maintained by the Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach. The board of directors has an official policy to provide funds or special help for boys of exceptional ability who are college bound, and the Sponsors' Club, made up of mothers, faculty wives and special friends of the school, conducts an annual bazaar and festival to provide more scholarship funds. An additional program of special note was started this year by the Independent Schools of America. R.L.S. President and Headmaster, Robert U. Ricklefs, was a leader in this special nationwide search for young leadership.

Headmaster Ricklefs attended the annual meeting of Independent Schools Talent Search Program at the Phillips Academy in Andover, Massachusetts, last week where he participated in discussions and reviews of this unusual project at the invitation of the program director.

The ISTSP is a foundation-supported endeavor to search out boys of high ability from the culturally deprived areas of the country and give them the opportunity for a college-preparatory education in the finest schools in the country. Independent schools represented in the program number 105 of which number Stevenson is one of two on the Pacific Coast.

Applicants were carefully "screened," and the selectees were then given an intensive eight-week summer training session at one of five colleges — Williams, Duke, Dartmouth, Carleton and Mount Holyoke. This year more than 1,700 youngsters were processed and slightly more than 400 have been placed in the member schools. "R.L.S." has four boys currently enrolled from the program, one each from Houston, Texas; Cleveland, Ohio; Seattle, Washington; and Long Beach.

During his brief visit to the East coast, Headmaster Ricklefs visited graduates of the Stevenson School at Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, the University of Pennsylvania, and Colby College in Maine.

Pebble Beach Votes Tuesday On Proposed Sanitary District

Sample ballots have been mailed to all registered voters in the Del Monte Forest area comprising the proposed Pebble Beach Sanitary District. The Del Monte Forest Home Owners Association urges an affirmative vote in Tuesday's vote on the proposed district and officers, according to Charles B. Kramer, president.

Nominees are Jack Hurff, district assessor, and Randal W. Barton, Hugh H. Bein, William Howard Church, Clyde E. Hall and Earle W. Mills, district board members.

The State of California has demanded that pollution from present Pebble Beach outfalls into the ocean shall cease and the Monterey County Board of Supervisors will implement this order either by a sanitation, or a sanitary, district. The latter will ensure design and construction of a sanitary disposal installation by an elected board, also cost controlled by the same directors. Formation of a sanitary district, too, will permit negotiations to ascertain whether

Also in the theatre party was Efrain Ramirez who played the lead role of Pepe in the picture which was having its first commercial showing. contracts with Pacific Grove or Carmel sanitary districts would be more advantageous than building a separate sewage treatment plant.

If the proposed sanitary district is voted down, the board of supervisors will create a sanitation district under complete county control and assessment. A NO vote will in no way prevent or delay new sewage disposal arrangements for the area. Del Monte Forest property owners have no choice whether or not a sanitary plant will be built and paid for by property taxes.

However, according to Mr. Kramer, the cost will be less to the average home owner by voting for a sanitary district. Estimated cost for building a sanitary plant for the Pebble Beach district is $2.5 million with the government contribution toward this cost being $625,000.

PG & E Discusses Gas Service To Carmel Valley Village Area

"When, where and how much for gas service in the Carmel Valley Village area" was discussed by Pacific Gas and Electric Company representatives at a luncheon sponsored by the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association on Wednesday.

Thomas E. Riddle, PG & E Monterey district manager, outlined the conditions under which the gas service extension might be feasible according to regulations established by the California Public Utilities Commission.

He also compared costs between existing service in the lower valley with probable costs in the upper valley and with bottle gas costs.

Riddle began by describing the local situation. "The CPUC has certain ground rules for extending natural gas service to new areas such as yours. This is to assure that you receive dependable service and to provide a structure under which areas asking for service bear any extra costs involved," he said.

"Our job at the moment is trying to determine with a reasonable amount of accuracy the number of people in this village area who seriously want gas service extended to here, and we need to know who is willing to pay a substantial deposit of, perhaps, $50. The key question asked by many residents hinges around what the service will cost, and I have prepared estimates based on actual service.

The PG & E manager presented estimated figures that compare natural gas costs and bottle gas costs in typical homes in the lower valley with what the average monthly gas costs might be in the Carmel Valley Village area.

The audience was reminded by the utility representative that the actual application for approval of the gas service extension has not yet been made to the CPUC but that it would happen in the near future. Riddle concluded by saying, "Based on previous experience, the prospects of approval appear good."

Middle School Football Games

Four Middle School teams are competing in the Monterey Flag Football League. Last Saturday they played Los Arboles School of Marina. The teams are 7A, 7B, 8A and 8B.

In the first game, Carmel's 7B beat the Los Arboles 7B team by a score of 19-7. Gerry Seeders played an exceptional game as quarterback for Middle School contributing many successful runs and passes. Kim Weston ran 45 yards for one touchdown and was the best blocker for the team. Hustler Bob Conlan, Middle School wingback, took many reverses for big gains.

In the 7B game, Sparky La Grange led the Carmel team to a 19-7 victory over Los Arboles' 7B. The local team displayed fine team effort.

The 8A game was a cliffhanger. Jim DeAmaral, quarterbacked the Middle School team, was the leading ground gainer and threw two touchdown passes. The first, in the opening quarter, was a 20-yarder to John Duhring who snagged it in the end zone. Los Arboles retaliated with two touchdowns. With two minutes left in the final frame, DeAmaral threw a 45-yarder to Ward Gillette who reached and made a seemingly impossible catch, then ran the remaining 15 yards for a tie score.

Gillette averaged 40 yards on his punts in his splendid game showing. Jim Conlan, made good runs and Craig Dickenson intercepted a Los Arboles' touchdown drive. Hans Smith, end, did a good defensive job.

Middle School's 8B team lost to Los Arboles, 20-16 in a hard fought contest. David Carlson was an excellent end. Kevin Cunningham was outstanding at quarterback spot, also David Eagling as halfback, in this game.

FAREWELL FOR FLOYD

Following his final planning commission meeting last week, Carmel's director of planning, Floyd Adams, was feted by the commission at a party in city hall attended by former and present city councilmen, heads of city departments, friends and city employees. Above Mr. Adams, who is retiring after 26 years service, stands between his wife, Gwen, and Planning Commission Chairman Dorothy von Meier. Next to her is Glenn Kearns, then a former Mayor of Carmel, Herbert Heron.

No Crises For Board Of Education

"Crises are not good for school districts," Dr. Harris Taylor, superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, remarked last Wednesday night after the board of education dealt with routine matters. Adjournment came after an hour and half with a portion of this time taken up by Joe Broadman, Middle School art teacher, who gave an entertaining account of his six-month sabbatical leave last Spring in this country and Europe.

The board approved preparation of a resolution which will require all parents transporting pupils in private cars on field trips to have $50-$100,000 liability insurance and $10,000 property damage coverage.

At the request of Trustee Clayton Neill Jr., the board approved a study by the administration on the number of persons in the same family who are employed by the district with report at a coming meeting.

Another trustee, Dr. Hilton Bialek, received approval of his proposal that the group of citizens which, last Spring, planned to set up a foundation to aid the school district financially following the failure of the override tax, be asked to give the board a progress report.

The Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula was given permission to use the cafeteria, teachers' room, coffee room and four classrooms at River School for Sunday services until April 2, 1967, at which time it is expected the congregation's new church will be ready.

Safeway Stores Hit New High In Both Sales And Profits

Safeway Stores, Incorporated, on Saturday reported new highs in both sales and profits.

Net income for the 36 weeks ending September 10 amounted to $41,915,105 compared to $30,947,475 for the same period of 1965, an increase of 35%.

Safeway's 1966 net income for the same period amounted to $1.65 per share of common stock, based on the average number of shares outstanding during the period compared to $1.21 in 1965.

Sales during this time totaled $2,308,580,864 in 1966 as against $2,018,888,384 in 1965, an increase of 14%.

During the third twelve-week period, the company reported sales of $804,535,153 and net income of $15,565,900 compared to $688,709,894 and $12,001,693 respectively for the same twelve-week period in 1965. Earnings per share of common stock were $0.62 and $0.47 respectively.

There were 2,161 Safeway stores in operation at the close of the company's first thirty-six weeks of 1966 as compared to 2,128 at the same time a year ago.

The resignation of Mrs. Barbara Woodsmall, remedial reading teacher at Middle School, was accepted. The employment of Harry Catlin as district purchasing agent and accountant was approved, also the employment of Lila Johnson, Jean Harnish and Marilyn Webster, clerks; Robert Parkhurst and Sheldermine Ruskell, bus drivers; and James Strang, custodian. Cafeteria workers employed were Patricia Cunningham, Pauline Maugeri, Florence Turner, Velma Hilton, Pamela Viljoen, Marie Fry, Sylvia Hauswirth, Gloria Machado, Della Powell, Juanita Rodriguez.

The board observed with interest that Mrs. Carol Manjares is now driving her children from their home to the nearest bus stop in upper Carmel Valley at a cost to the district of ten cents a mile. Transportation of the Manjares family involved the Carmel district in litigation and the court ordered the district to provide a bus and driver. The new arrangement is much less costly.

John Sigourney was thanked for his donation of a water filter system to Palo Colorado School. Noted was that two high school students interested in becoming teachers are serving as aides in this one-room school. Christopher Carroll was granted a high school diploma after obtaining the necessary credits in the armed services.

TOMBOLA WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Lawrence Kinsler, chairman of the Hat Bar; Mrs. A. B. Holdridge, chairman of clothing; and Mrs. W. Lincoln Noelle, chairman of the Jewelry Booth, display samples of a large selection of fashions ranging from Mod accessories and Mini skirts to more conventional next-to-new and new clothing, all of which will be sold at the annual Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services Tombola Wednesday at the Monterey Fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

An entrance donation of $1 will entitle the ticket holder not only to a chance for winning a door prize, but also provide the privilege of having a snack or luncheon — even afternoon tea — at the Snack Bar manned by members of the Monterey County Symphony Association headed by Mrs. Jack J. Miller. Of course, this delicious fare must be purchased as must all the other inviting articles on sale. There will be a greater variety this year than ever before. Hand-crafted articles for Christmas gifts, antiques, art objects, jewelry, a Gourmet Booth with freshly baked delicacies and piles of fresh vegetables will be among attractive merchandise particularly selected for Tombola sale.

The Monterey County Symphony Association, the Family Service Agency and the Visiting Nurse Association will benefit from the October 12 sale.

BIBLE BROADCAST

KSBW has announced that their facilities are now being used for The Back to the Bible Broadcast. It is scheduled at 11:00-11:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday and is designed to be a weekday supplement to the faithful work of the local churches and their pastors.

LSD Authority Talks Tomorrow At MPC

Dr. Sidney Cohen, a leader in LSD research at UCLA, will discuss the controversial drug in an evening lecture at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the National Guard Armory on campus.

In his lecture, Dr. Cohen, whose appearance here is being co-sponsored by the Monterey County Mental Health Association, will discuss all relevant aspects of LSD, including its uses and application to medical research. He will also touch on other hallucinogens and the more general problems connected with drugs which affect mental activity.

Dr. Cohen's lecture is the first in MPC's fall evening lecture series. Other lecturers will be Valery Tarsis, Russian novelist; Gore Vidal, novelist, playwright and critic; Art Ruchwald, humorist columnist; Dr. Han Suyin, author of "Love is a Many-Splendored Thing"; and Sir Alec Douglas Home, former Prime Minister of Great Britain.

PARTY PLANS . . .

By Phyllis Jervey

CARMEL MISSION FIESTA MENU

On Sunday, the traditional fiesta celebrating the feast of Carmel Mission's patron saint, San Carlos de Borromeo, will be celebrated. Following high mass, there will be a chicken barbecue, always a huge success. Party Plans gives you the menu to be served on Sunday but you will have to go in person to watch the "Cuadro Espanol," three talented artists who will present classical dances of old Spain in the Mission courtyard.

Harry Downie, noted authority on the era when the California missions were founded and enthusiastic curator-restorer of our own mission, has given us some fascinating highlights. How many of us realize that the Spanish word barbacoa is a contraction of barba (beard) and cola (tail), meaning the whole beef or sheep was cooked from beard to tail over a charcoal pit?

Harry loaned us two priceless books so we could pour over former pioneering. The large tome, "Voyage of Discoveries" (1790) translated from English into French, is by the famous English explorer Captain George Vancouver. He tells that wheat grew in the fields not far from our own mission and there were grapes in the valley for wine making when he visited here.

So with wild game and birds, plus cattle, fish, chickens and fruit, early Californians in our area fared well. The other yellowed book is "Voyage to the Pacific" by Captain F. W. Beechy, R.N. (1825) in which we hear of beans, peas, corn—the mainstay of the Indians—although they subsisted on acorns and game before the Spaniards came.

What absorbing reading! We learn all about the Mission Trail, later to be known as El Camino Real (The Royal Road) which skirts our coast for 650 miles. The padres planted seeds, vines and trees. The herbs and piquant seasonings they brought from Old Mexico and planted in the Mission gardens enlivened their coarse diet and left a heritage of flavor.

CARMEL BARBECUED CHICKEN

Halved fresh broilers will be cooked to a tender turn by Nick Limov, well known chef for 25 years on the Peninsula and now with Crichton's in Carmel. He told us that his barbecue sauce is not of ancient California origin but is his own concoction. Sounds mighty good what with the Oriental spark of soya and ginger, strictly not old Spanish-Mexican!

NICK'S BARBECUE SAUCE

Use vegetable oil and mix with dry mustard, salt, pepper, paprika, oregano, powdered ginger, red wine and soy sauce to taste. Amounts will, of course, depend on quantity. Do not marinate chickens but baste with the above sauce which is best made 24 hours ahead so as to meld flavors. Shake well each time before using.

NICK'S SAVORY PINTO BEANS

Use the pink small beans and soak overnight. Next day, drain and add fresh water to cover. Bring to a slight boil then simmer until tender. They take about 2 hours, according to Nick, that is if the new processed beans are used—look for directions on package for time. One hour before they are done add to 1 lb pkg. beans about ¼ cup vinegar, salt, pepper, paprika to taste. Add a small amount of tomato paste—too much will give the beans an acid taste which must be avoided. A quick dash of sugar could be used in this case. At serving, top with minced fresh parsley. This is Nick's Own. Many of us use chopped garlic and onions and some ham in our beans, but Nick's are super!

There will be a Taco Booth at the fiesta. How we all love tacos! They help waiting in line for the aromatic barbacoa.

CARMELO TACOS

One and one-half pounds ground round of beef; 1 onion, chopped finely; 1 garlic clove, minced; 3 green chilies, toasted, peeled, minced; 2 fresh tomatoes, chopped; pinch of thyme; salt and pepper; 2 tbsps. olive oil.

Combine the ground meat with onion, garlic, chilies, tomatoes, thyme, salt and pepper to taste. Saute in oil, stirring with fork to break up meat. Cover and cook until done. Use 12 tortillas for 12 tacos. Dip tortillas in hot oil, turn over, remove and drain. Place 2 tbsps. hot meat filling on each tortilla, fold, and fasten with toothpick. Serve very hot.

Harry Downie tells us that Spanish soldiers who guarded the missions preferred white flour tortillas as against cornmeal ones the Indians and Mexicans doted on.

HARRY DOWNIE'S TORTILLAS

(Makes 16)

Two cups unsifted white wheat flour; 1 scant tbsp. shortening; 1/8 tsp. salt; water enough to make a stiff dough.

Divide dough into 16 round balls and press very thin. Use rolling pin until these thin cakes are rolled to a ten-inch diameter. Fry tortilla in large frying pan with slow heat until light brown on each side. Put into cloth and keep warm.

Salsa (Sauce)

Two lbs. dried chili peppers, cleaned and stems removed. Grind in metate (stone mortar and pestle) or grinder; add water just to cover; boil gently with 2 crushed garlic cloves; add ½ tsp. oregano; 1 tsp. powdered comino (cumin); ¼ tsp. sugar and salt to taste.

Simmer until tender, then thicken with flour to slight thickness.

Cheese Filling

Six onions, chopped fine; simmer in ¼ cup olive oil; mix with 3 lbs. tangy yellow cheese, grated or cut small; 1 large cup ripe olives chopped fine; 5 hard cooked eggs, chopped fine; mix well.

Dip each tortilla in sauce, spread with filling, roll and set in baking pan. Pour sauce over all; bake in slow (325 F.) oven about 30 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Serve with more hot sauce and grated cheese on top.

(Serves 25)

One lb. 4 oz. of yellow cornmeal; 3 qts. boiling water, slightly salted; 4 oz. (½ cup) olive oil; 1 qt. veal or pork cut in small pieces; 3 medium onions, chopped fine; 1 garlic clove, minced; salt and pepper to taste; 1½ qts. solid-pack tomatoes; 1½ qts. whole-kernel canned corn, drained; 1 pt. ripe black olives (pitted); 2 tbsps. chili powder, or to taste.

Cook cornmeal in boiling water as for porridge. Heat olive oil in saucepan, add meat and cook until browned. Add onions and garlic and cook over medium heat until done, about 40 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Add tomatoes and corn; heat thoroughly. Add cornmeal porridge, olives and chili powder. Heat thoroughly, stirring constantly, on top of stove to blend well. Cook and serve in Mexican pottery cazuela (casserole).

The Pozole recipe (similar to the way Indian-Mexicans prepared theirs long ago) is from Bess A. Cleveland's "California Mission Recipes," published by Charles E. Tuttle.

How much safety do you want for your money?

Financial safety comes in all shapes and sizes. There are safe investments and risky investments—and ones that are in between. Depending upon how much risk you want to take, your money can be invested in a variety of ways.

Your savings, however, are another thing. This is money you do not want to risk—no matter how safe the investment appears. This is money you want to be able to count on at all times and under all conditions. And when you want your money that safe and that available—you want it in the bank.

Art News . . .

Open to the public is the third annual competitive show, Monterey County Painting—1966, sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association, in this group's gallery on Lincoln Street. A champagne preview to raise funds for the three $300 prizes in this exhibition was held yesterday. Fred Martin, director of the San Francisco Art Institute, judged the entries.

A fine arts exhibit is part of the California Council, American Institute of Architects' convention currently being held at the Monterey County Fairgrounds. Among the nine California artists invited to exhibit was Gordon Newell, Monterey Peninsula sculptor. The show is titled "Fine Arts For Architecture." The public may visit the exhibition on Saturday.

Beginning Tuesday, the Grove Gallery will feature a one-man show of watercolors, acrylics, and watercolor-collages by Marilyn Brown. Mrs. Brown attended the University of Washington in Seattle as an art major and has taken subsequent courses at San Jose State College and MPC. Recently, her paintings were accepted in art exhibits at the Monterey County Fair, the Jazz Festival, and the Pacific Grove Watercolor show.

Also on exhibit will be paintings by Joan Savo, Alex Gonzales, Gerald Wasserman, Victor DiGesua, and others. The show ends November 13. The Grove Gallery is located at 214 17th Street, and is now open Tuesday through Sunday from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.—closed Monday.

"Evolving Images," a collection of oils and watercolors by Sam Colburn, will open tomorrow afternoon in conjunction with an exhibit by photo artist Bandi Binder at the Monterey Neighborhood Center, 280 Dickman Street. A preview tea will be held from 3 to 5 p. m. tomorrow, and the exhibit will be on view through October.

Mr. Colburn, a member of the Carmel Art Association and a recent winner in the fine arts division of the Monterey County Fair, will begin instructing classes in watercolor at the center on October 15. These will be held at 9:30 a.m. every Saturday.

For reasons of health, Leonard Heller resigned two weeks ago from the presidency of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association.

Peninsula Museum of Art Association. Mr. Heller, who has guided the group for the past three years, recommended Robert Stanton as the new president. This recommendation was approved by the board of directors. Mr. Stanton is also president of the Monterey History and Art Association.

Paintings by Freda Fischer, a member of the Carmel Art Association, are to be displayed during October at Carmel Foundation Town House. The show may be seen Monday through Friday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mrs. Fischer first studied painting under the late Lee Randolph in a Carmel Adult School class, then studied with Bennett Bradbury for several years and took the color mixing course under John Cunningham, director of the Carmel Art Institute.

The $50 million exhibition will show 100 masterworks by 65 Dutch painters of the Rembrandt era. It will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., including Sundays.

The Carmel Crafts Guild will exhibit work of the finest craftsmen of this area during Carmel's golden anniversary celebration, October 21-31. Supervisors Order Incorporation Election

At yesterday's (October 3) meeting of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, the Carmel census presented by H. L. Warren was received and confirmed.

An election to decide the matter of incorporating the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea was ordered to take place on Thursday, October 26.

Those at the meeting from Carmel were G. F. Beardsley, J. L. Williams, Perry Newberry, W. T. Kibbler, H. L. Warren and W. L. Overstreet.

WHY WE SHOULD INCORPORATE

There comes a time in the history of every village when it must take upon itself greater responsibility or go backward. It may not stand still. Carmel is now at that point.

We must not any longer depend upon the Carmel Development Company to take all responsibilities—nor do we wish to do so.

What does incorporation mean?

1. Every property owner bears even share of the expenses of community interest whether resident or not.

2. About $1,800 of taxes paid by us, now going to the county, will come back to our municipality. Under the law, we may have two salaried officers—a marshal, who may also be street superintendent, and a town clerk, who also may be assessor and tax collector. These salaries should not cost us over $1,000 a year. The entire expenses of city government should not exceed $1,200 a year, leaving a good balance for improvements.

3. The imperative need for improved streets may be dealt with at least possible drain on property owners. Carmel is a place of beauty. Its streets must be laid out for beauty. Now is the time to do this before the town grows larger and more commercialized. Roadways of sufficient width should curve about trees and brush; wind in lines of beauty and be a pleasure to artists and every lover of beauty. With artists of merit actively interested and assisting in planning of our roadways, there should be wonderful results.

Today our artistic and literary population is a large proportion of the whole. Each year it will grow less. Give it a chance now to plan for beauty.

4. We can have police protection, fire protection, sanitary protection—systematized. We can have officers at hand when they are needed.

5. We will have elected trustees to whom complaints may be made, whose duty it is to listen and to heed, with the machinery of the law behind them to enforce compliance. We can elect these trustees, remove them by recall and supervise their actions by initiative and referendum. We will have the machinery to have our wishes respected. We will have stable government.

We have grown up to organized government. Let's have it.

CARMEL POINT, MISSION RANCH EXCLUDED

The argument against annexation because the south peninsula, (Carmel Point) is not included has no basis of reason.

It would be just as fair to include the Martin pasture lands (Mission Ranch and Mission Tract). Neither the owners of one nor of the other should be asked to pay special assessments for streets, nor should the rest of Carmel be expected to build streets for them, police them or give them city advantages. Both are practically individually owned and any improvement should be up to the owners.

Later, when conditions are different and there is population to consider, these parts can be taken in by annexation, if desired.

Mary Pickford in "Rags" will play at the Manzanita Theatre this month.

The population of California has reached the 3,000,000 mark.

WHAT TO DO WITH HOTEL CARMEL?

What is going to be done with Hotel Carmel? The owners have not decided what disposition to make of the building. A number of schemes are under consideration. (It was eventually rolled down Ocean Avenue from Junipero and Ocean to become part of Pine Inn.)

PINE NEEDLES

A number of young people helped Bonnie Hale celebrate her 16th birthday . . . Mrs. M. H. Bremner is going to France. She will look up the war babies Mrs. Cobbe and the local Red Cross chapter are taking care of . . . Perry Newberry has a story in All Story Magazine . . . Mrs. W. L. Overstreet who was severely injured by being thrown from a buggy will be about again soon.

Face the situation fearlessly, and soon there will be no situation to face.

Eleanor Henry

Eleanor Mary Henry, long time resident of Carmel, died Saturday in a local hospital after a brief illness. During the past 18 months, she had made her home in a retirement community in Pacific Grove. Born in Mason, Texas, 76 years ago, Miss Henry had lived in California since her early childhood.

A member of the Monterey History and Art Association, she had a deep interest in the history of the Peninsula and in the preservation of its scenic beauty. After a vacation here, Miss Henry purchased a homesite at Dolores and Second Streets, upon which, in 1919, she erected the dwelling which she occupied for the ensuing 45 years.

Miss Henry, a graduate of the University at Berkeley, retired as a teacher in Santa Barbara High School after a long career in education. She was a member of the American Association of University Women which she served in various positions for many years.

She is survived by a niece, Mrs. R. A. Ehler, of Forestville, California, and several nephews residing elsewhere.

Private memorial arrangements were in charge of Paul Mortuary. Inurnment took place in the family plot in Woodland Cemetery at Santa Monica.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN PLAN LUNCHEON

Chaplain Glenn Hamilton of the 4th Brigade Chapel at Fort Ord will be guest speaker at a luncheon of the Monterey County Christian Women's Club Tuesday at 12:15 p.m. at La Playa Hotel. A special feature, Tartans and Plaids, will be part of the program, which will also include music.

Luncheon is $2.50 and reservations may be made with Maude Elizabeth Currie (624-4877) or Joan Campos (394-8878). Free nursery service will be provided at the Church of the Wayfarer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases."

The Psalmist's assurance of God's healing power is included in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The account of the woman who was healed simply by touching the hem of Jesus' garment is also among the Scriptural readings.

A correlative passage to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, declares: "Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death."

READ THE WANT ADS

From A
Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

When anyone thinks of author Gladys Taber, the word Stillmeadow comes to mind. This is because Mrs. Taber has lived for over 20 years in an historic farmhouse in Connecticut which is called Stillmeadow, and many of her writings have mentioned the house and the cockers she raises and loves so well. Her latest book is called ONE DOZEN AND ONE and is a collection of short stories which are about ordinary people in ordinary circumstances, even as you and I, (or me, as the case may be). There is a generous kindness in the writings of Gladys Taber which endears them to us all.

A HELL OF A LIFE is the life story of Harry Richman, told by him to Richard Gehman. Speaking as a gentle little old lady librarian, the book reads a little rough, so if you are a squeamish reader, skip it. He says he made $13 million in his life and spent every cent of it. Today he is pretty broke, and he needs the royalties from this book. In his day he was a great song and dance man, a star of George White's Scandals and of Ziegfeld Follies. Too bad he couldn't have saved a little money and then done an autobiography with a bit more dignity, but perhaps his time had little dignity for his heyday was in the Twenties and Thirties, and who can remember dignity then?

Never to be forgotten was the day when a tall young man came to this library and to his surprise and dismay, found nothing on surfing. Our dismay matched his. Today we do have material on surfing, and this week we add SURFING, THE SPORT OF HAWAIIAN KINGS, by Ben Finney. Illustrated with many photographs, this is a history of surfing and an account of surfing wherever it is enjoyed. Some of the pictures are almost frightening for they show immense waves rolling in with a tiny little surfer riding the swells.

Twenty-two of the friends of Adlai Stevenson collaborated in the book AS WE KNEW ADLAI. Because they were friends, they give us a warmly personal account of this man who was, perhaps, America's last statesman. It must have been difficult to write these pieces, having always in mind that perhaps, no matter how hard you tried, you might not really be doing him justice. And so each one who wrote for the book seems to be saying, "This is the way I knew him." This is a great book to read.

By writing 40 books of non-fiction, Colette wrote her own autobiography, for pieces and parts of these were put together to form EARTHLY PARADISE, COLETTE'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY. This is not the so - the - next - day - she - went - where sort of biography, but rather the disconnected pieces which make up the story of her life if taken as an entirety.

Based upon an article which appeared in the New Yorker on April 16, 1966, Richard Goodwin has given us a small book entitled TRIUMPH OR TRAGEDY, REFLECTIONS ON VIETNAM. He has his own solution to the present conflict. If it is a good and logical one, it brings up the question of why some one in authority in Washington had never thought of it.

In Cleveland, Ohio, there is a house called Karamu House, where people of all races work together in peace and amity. They produce the drama, opera, and the dance, because the founders believed that the path of racial equality was to be found in active fellowship in the arts. It worked for them. Why not for the rest of the country?

AFFIDAVIT OF INDIVIDUAL TO CONDUCT BUSINESS UNDER FICTITIOUS NAME

Mission Fiesta

Bishop Harry Clinch, pastor. Following the Mass, the children's choir of Junipero Serra School will participate in a procession leading to the courtyard.

A chicken barbecue will be served in the quadrangle until 5 p.m. Tickets for the barbecue may be purchased at the gate or in advance at Central Box Office in Carmel. ($2 for adults, $1 for children).

Booths for refreshments and games for children and adults will be set-up in the courtyard. Pinatas for children of different age groups will be provided every hour.

Music and entertainment in the patio will feature the dancing of the "Cuadro Espanol" group including Moreno, Lourdes Rodriguez, and Teresa Parry who have successfully toured California. Choreography for the "Cuadro Espanol" has been directed by the dynamic Valencian dancer, Amparo, whose work is well-known on the Monterey Peninsula.

Manuel Campos and members of his mariachi band, who have entertained at the previous fiestas, again will furnish music. Songs by Jose Romero of the Army Language School will also be presented.

A Teen Dance for high school students will be held in Crespi Hall from 2 - 5 p.m. "Live" music will be furnished by the popular four-piece combo known as "The Morticians" which features Jim Trivette on bass, Doug Cunningham on lead guitar, Mark Sloan on drums, and Ron Sorri's rhythm guitar. Admission to the Teen Dance will be 50 cents.

With the help and supervision of the faculty, students of Junipero Serra School at the Carmel Mission are busy making appropriate Spanish costumes for the fiesta. All others who attend are encouraged to wear Spanish or Mexican dress, if they so desire.

The committee sponsoring La Fiesta de San Carlos de Borromeo includes members of four parish organizations: the Knights of Columbus, Billy Burke Council; The Mothers' Club of Junipero Serra School; the Catholic Daughters; and The Altar Society.

Studies by the National Safety Council show that when alcohol in a driver's blood reaches .15 of 1 per cent, the chances of his causing an accident is 25 times as great as if he were sober.

be deeded to the city by both Girl Scout bodies and the library, all of whom claim interest in the property. This will give the city an unencumbered deed to the lot which will be used for expansion of the library which is situated catercorner across Sixth Avenue.

Lastly, funds remaining from $19,300 fire insurance money be paid the Girl Scout Council, after the Carmel Girl Scout Chapter is compensated for loss of its personal property, and attorneys' fees have been paid.

Just who owned the site of the former Girl Scout house reaches back into Carmel history. In 1906, ten Carmel residents formed the Carmel Free Library Association. This group was given a building and the use of a lot by the Carmel Development Company. In 1921, the original building was moved across the street to a lot donated to the library association by Mary Louise Morgan. The library association disbanded in 1927 and gave its books to the new Harrison Memorial Library, its land and building to the Carmel Girl Scouts and money in the treasury to the Boy Scouts.

Later the Carmel Girl Scouts became affiliated with the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council. Consequently, when the Girl Scout House burned, the council laid claim to insurance money and lot on which the building had stood. The Carmel Girl Scout Chapter made similar claims. The Harrison Memorial Library also laid claim to the lot. The matter has been in litigation for three years.

The proposal accepted by the council, last night, is hoped will satisfy all litigants. Should the Girl Scouts agree to the proposal, janitorial services and electricity used in the Sunset facility will be paid by them. Also, if remodeling, during 40 years, exceeds the $15,000 allocated, the Girl Scouts will be responsible for further expense. Furthermore, should the Sunset Center heating system ever be remodelled so that separate heating costs may be allocated to specific uses, the Girl Scouts then would pay heating costs for their premises.

Councilman Norberg voted against the proposal because he was worried about interior access from the former cafeteria to the auditorium which presently is accomplished by a balcony in the gymnasium. He also wished the premises which will be leased to the Girl Scouts to be available for municipal purposes when requested. Councilman Eben Whittlesey suggested that the latter might be accomplished satisfactorily during lease negotiations.

Councilman Sefton pointed out that the proposed arrangement gave the city deed to property for library expansion valued at $40-$50,000.

"This is no $1 a year lease proposal," he emphasized.

Colonial Type Street Lights On San Carlos

There will be no threat of free-way-type standards when new street lights are installed on San Carlos Street between Ocean and Seventh avenues, the city council decreed last night when it decided on the installation of the Town and Country light standards now on Dolores Street in the next section of the business district scheduled for underground utility service by the P.G. & E.

The council agreed, also, to the additional installation of two of the colonial type standards on Dolores, one at the southeast intersection of Ocean and the other at the southeast intersection of Seventh.

Approved was the installation of four lights on San Carlos between Ocean and Seventh. These will be staggered on both sides starting with one at the southeast corner of Ocean and San Carlos and ending at the northwest corner of San Carlos and Seventh. Provision will be made, too, for the installation of four more lights in this block, if and when needed. By providing installation facilities when the undergrounding is first done will save the city money.

A public hearing on Step 2 of the P.G. & E.'s undergrounding of utilities in the business district, which includes the San Carlos block, was held by the council last night. Mayor Stephen Grant stressed that this hearing was to give "the people of Carmel a voice in government." He hoped there would be no dissension later as in the Dolores lighting when objections to the standards originally approved arose and resulted in a change to those now installed. All property owners in the area affected will be notified of the council's approval of the next undergrounding step.

"I am personally pleased with the amount of dispatch the P.G. & E. is accomplishing," Councilman Eben Whittlesey observed. Time set for the entire undergrounding of all utility services in the business district was to be 20 years. One section is now completed and the second section agreed upon.

In Lieu Parking Cost Set, City Hall Stays Put

A proposal to move the city hall to Sunset Center was squelched, at least for the time being, last night when the council adopted a report by Councilmen Herbert Blanks and William Sefton. The "prohibitive cost" of such a move, estimated at $100,000, plus the fact that the present city hall premises are "adequate," were the reasons given in the report for keeping the city hall where it is. However, the report added that re-evaluation should be given to use of the land on which the city hall stands before any such move is contemplated again.

The sum of $4,500 was set as the in-lieu payment to be made to the city for an off-street parking place on any municipal lot. This price should be re-evaluated every two years, the council also decided.

By provisions of the existing parking ordinance, any new development, or existing buildings remodelled extensively, must provide off-street parking, or pay the city a sum per parking space in lieu of parking. The number of parking spaces per development is proportionate to the amount of space occupied by a building.

A STOP AHEAD sign will be installed at the city limits on Ocean Avenue east of Carpenter Street, the council decided. This action came following requests from Mrs. Barbara Hood and Dr. Timothy Hobson for traffic lights or signals at the Ocean and Carpenter intersection. Letters from Dr. Hobson and Mrs. Hood pointed out that a number of accidents had occurred at this intersection. Police Chief Clyde Klaumann reported that in 1964 two injury accidents had occurred there; in 1965, one; in 1966, four. From 1962-1966, there had been 12 non-injury accidents.

The council adjourned, tentatively, until October 25 because the offer to purchase the present police station site, presented by August Nieto and Wesley Ball, Carmel realtors representing an unnamed buyer, has been withdrawn. The offer was to have been considered at on October 25.

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

The stock market is having a rough time evaluating the news. Good news that a year ago would have led to a rush of stock buying today is ignored. Now people are afraid that there might be peace in Viet Nam that would lead to a stop in war spending. They are afraid also the current peace move will fail and lead to doubling our number of troops in Viet Nam. Many feel this would lead not only to higher taxes, both corporate and personal, but to an even tighter money situation which would mean even higher interest rates.

Now this is not the kind of news that leads to higher dividends. In fact, if this tight money gets worse, it might start affecting other areas in business the way it has housing which is now in a major slump. Add to this the problem of major strikes next year and you've got plenty for pessimists to talk about.

The Business Roundup in the current Fortune is worth reading on the effects of a higher level of war in Viet Nam. You also might be interested in the article about how a client lost a small fortune doing everything wrong in the stock market in the current issue of Playboy.

And if this stock market keeps going down much longer you might be interested in just forgetting the stock market—period.

That friends, is when I hope I've got a few bucks to invest because history does repeat itself and the stock market will go up again. The 64 million dollar question is when, not if.

(Hugh Hannon is with Irving Lundborg & Co. in Carmel.)
